

By road From London on A3 and M25 (J10) (travelling South)

1. Exit the A3 where sign posted to The University of Surrey, The Cathedral, The Hospital and The Research Park (do not take earlier exits signed to Guildford).
2. Take the third exit off the Cathedral roundabout. Drive through the underpass, below A3.
3. Go straight across the next two roundabouts, the second of which will bring you onto Gill Avenue (Hospital on your right).
4. At the top of Gill Avenue you come onto The Surrey Research Park.

From Portsmouth on A3 (travelling North)

1. Exit A3 where sign posted to The University of Surrey, The Cathedral, The Hospital and The Research Park.
2. Take the second exit off the roundabout at the end of slip road.
3. Go straight across the next roundabout which will bring you onto Gill Avenue (Hospital on your right).
4. At the top of Gill Avenue you come onto The Surrey Research Park.

From London by Rail

1. Guildford is on the Waterloo-Portsmouth Harbour line which has a good service. Waterloo is the terminus for the Eurostar service to Europe.
2. Catch a fast train from Waterloo Station, London to Guildford Station.
3. Fast trains leave Waterloo on the hour and 20 and 40 minutes past the hour but do check timetable.
4. Once at Guildford Station take either a taxi, these are usually parked outside the front entrance or use the bus service. Some travel to the Park itself, others to the Hospital from where it is a short walk to the Park.

From Heathrow Airport

There is a rail/air/bus link service which operates two buses every hour between Heathrow Airport and Woking Station, which is only a ten minute train ride away from Guildford Station. The buses run at 20 past and 50 minutes past the hour and the duration of this journey is around an hour but do check the timetable.

From Gatwick Airport

There are two trains each hour from Gatwick Airport to Guildford. You may need to change at Clapham Junction although there is a direct service which takes only 40 minutes.
